FOR PUPPET OF ICE
AND ANIMATED ELEMENTS

We are living in a society where reality is drained of its meaning, space and time of their substance and the individual is cut off from his true existence. In this glossy world of superficiality, is there any room for those who do not participate in the power game: those who stumble, those who search and lose themselves?

ANYWHERE traces with gentleness and strength a poetic journey, in black and white, of fire and ice, which speaks to us about our bodies, our fragilities, our wanderings in the infinite circle of renewal.

Freely inspired by the novel 'Oedipus on the road' by Henry Bauchau ANYWHERE evokes the long wandering of Oedipus accompanied by his daughter Antigone.

The fallen Oedipus appears in the form of an ice puppet that gradually turns into water, then into mist and disappears in the Erynian Forest, the place of clairvoyance.

The inner evolution of this mystical character is in the image of the metamorphosis of water.

The spectator is invited to live an experience: to be one with the transformed material.

In this unstable reality, where from one instant to the next, everything can break apart, we merge with the elements, we sense the feeling of abandonment and transformation, we walk the same 'road where one gets lost and the being reveals itself (Heidegger).

FRAMEWORK

INTENDED FOR ALL AGES
OVER TEN

"Everyone will eventually have to recall the itinerary of their dreams and draw up in heaven and on earth the unknown route which corresponds to their inner image."

Œdipe sur la route

In the beginning of the story, Oedipus appears as someone who has been rejected, hurt and alone. It's through walking that he slowly comes back to life. The visions and signs that appear to him become clearer as he wanders further and they facilitate his self-understanding.

Finally, at the end of his travels, having crossed foggy landscapes, Oedipus disappears on "the sunlit path, where the deepening lines spread out towards infinity and where he soon becomes no more than a tiny dot which slowly fades away".

VISUAL DRAMATURGY

Because Oedipus is portrayed by a dual movement of absence and presence, being at the same time subject and spectrum, I imagined him in the form of a puppet of ice. The puppet will be manipulated by very long strings. It will change throughout the play. The audience will be able to relate to the evolution of the character by means of the evocative force of the physical transformations: solid, liquid and finally gaseous.

ICE ,METAPHOR OF EXIL

© Vincent Beaume

Ice as a sensation : the cold which holds, which freezes, solidifies and consolidates the molecules of water, which suspends thought. That concept contains the metaphor of exile, because by leaving his family, his home, his throne, Oedipus abandons the warmth that one generally associates with home, he goes where nothing can warm up his soul.

In contrast to this substance the element Fire is present in different forms along the journey : flames which revive joy, the power of the unleashed elements present in thunder and lightning, light which transcends. The blind Oedipus is accompanied along the way by Antigone, his light, his daughter and his tutor, puppeteer and guide. Clothed with a felt cloak which protects her from the devastating effects of the cold, she guides her father.

EXPLORING THE ELEMENT

ICE SCREEN

The first background to the performance is an ice screen on which is inscribed in black ink the first words of the story:

“«The wounds of Oedipus’ eyes which bled for so long are beginning to heal. Black tears no longer course down his cheeks, inspiring the horrific feeling in others that these are their own bloodied tears.»

THE MIST

The roaming of Oedipus and Antigone finishes at the forest of Erinyes at the gates of Colone. Everything is swathed in a heavy mist, a place at the crossroads of the worlds, where identities disappear.

ANTIGONE

The daughter of Oedipus, accompanies him along the way. This is also my approach as puppeteer : to follow, ever present, until the melting of the ice which becomes vapour.

The performance represents that accompaniment, just as one accompanies a dear one who’s dying, who fades away slowly little by little.

THE AUTHOR HENRY BAUCHAU

Born in Belgium in 1913, the poet and novelist Henry Bauchau died on September 12th 2012. He always felt he was on the fringe of Theatre. Concerned with introspection, he brought to light happiness, suffering, love and detachment. His works, where the words dance like wounded shadows in the mist, help us decipher our contemporary world, somewhere between the heart and spirit, reason and instinct, shadow and light. The novels Oedipus on the Road (Actes Sud, 1990), Antigone (Actes Sud, 1998), and Diotime and the Lions (Actes Sud, 1991) form a Theban trilogy.

OEDIPUS ON THE ROAD

Oedipus, who, as a plaything of the gods, killed his father and married his mother, leaves Thebes blind and crushed by the weight of his transgression. Accompanied by his daughter Antigone, he sets out on a long voyage which takes him to Colone, the place of clairvoyance. In fact the book reveals an inner voyage where a man confronts the shadows he carries within, until he achieves self knowledge.

The novel Oedipus on the Road by Henry Bauchau occurs in the silence of Sophocles between relating Oedipus king and Oedipus in Colone. Through his use of the mythical approach, Henry Bauchau offers a different reading of the story of Oedipus.

It leads us into the depth of the unconscious where disorder plays with the workings of the world and where the invisible brings about metamorphosis and transformation of the individual.

The figure of Oedipus as a hero of loss and transformation is intriguing. Even though the evolution of the character is embodied in the novel by means of the different parts that he plays – cursed king, exile, sculptor, bard, healer, man of the people – I'm more interested in his physical and inner transformations, his intimate identification with the surrounding environment. I mean to base my work on the text, extract phrases and the narrative architecture, and conserve only their evocative power and atmosphere.

The Compagnie du Théâtre de l'Entrouvert was created in 2010 by Elise Vigneron.

Through her solo, TRAVERSÉES, she lays the groundwork for a visual writing close to plastic installation mixing a strong presence of the elements (water, earth, fire, air) with disturbing images. In 2011, this show received the prize for innovative form at the Lleida International Festival in Spain. In 2020, it is being recreated for the outdoors.

IMPERMANENCE was created in 2013, based on poems by Tarjei Vesaas. This show initiates the research that Elise Vigneron will be carrying out on ephemeral materials and more particularly on ice.

ANYWHERE (creation 2016), a piece freely inspired by Henry Bauchau's novel «Oedipus on the road», highlights the metaphorical force of the transformation of ice through the staging of an ice puppet, figure of Oedipus. This show received the Vice Major Award of the International Puppet Festival in Ostrava, Czech Republic in 2017 and the Henry Bauchau Prize in 2018.

L'ENFANT (creation 2018) is an immersive form that leads the viewer to physically experience the play «Mort de Tintagiles» by Maurice Maeterlinck.

From 2020 to 2022, Elise Vigneron begins a new cycle of research on ice. LANDS, habiter le monde (creation May 2021) is a collaborative creation based on casts of ice feet. GLACE (creation October 2021) is an arts / science form between Elise Vigneron and Maurine Montagnat (glaciologist). LES VAGUES (creation January 2023) is a performance for ice choir, adapted from the novel "Les Vagues" by Virginia Woolf.

\ TÉLÉRAMA

« This show fascinate by its slowness and its bewitching beauty; the delicate play of elements and the darkness, its poetical and cruel strength. Beautiful art ! »

\ LIBÉRATION Interview of Élise Vigneron and Hélène Barreau

« In Anywhere, its a third play, Elise Vigneron plays Antigone with a puppet made of ice which appear to be an Oedipe running for transformation. Hélène Barreau manipulate it with a long string. A real esthetic and logistic feat. »

\ LES INROCKUPTIBLES

« The intiatic journey turn into an interior travel, when in ice its body turn into water, then evaporate. The hope that a form of redemption is still possible. A nice metaphor from this human condition which makes us think of being an inmate within ourselves. »
